Illustrations of Hand Positions: Karma

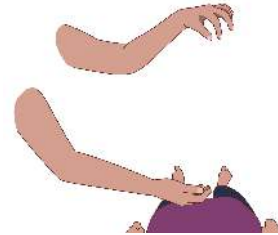

Karma - Stacks

Saying 'hello' to the Karma related to your client's case, and the people with whom the Karma is associated or playing out, you'll use your hand chakras to find and stick the top and bottom of the stack of energy.

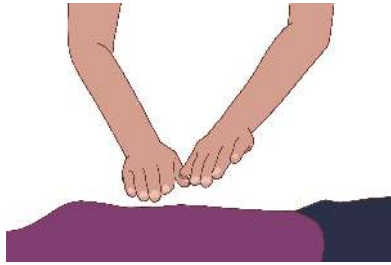

Having said 'hello' to those associated with the client's Karma, you'll pick up a fragment of their energy and drop it on the stack.

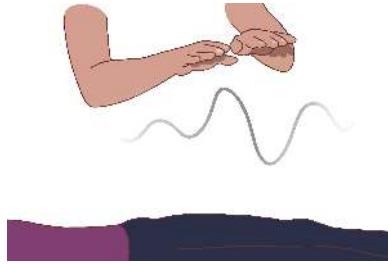

The stack of Karma disappears and you move on to source and release another stack. There's always plenty of Karma to clear!

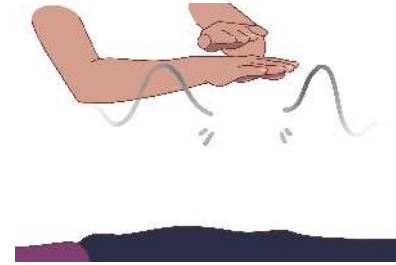

Karma - Waves

Saying 'hello' to the Karma related to your client's case, and the people with whom the Karma is associated or playing out, you'll use your hand chakras to trace the waves of Karma as they rise and begin to crest in the client's aura.

As the wave reaches its crest and begins to collapse, you'll run one hand through the crest of the wave.

The wave of Karma disappears and you move on to source and release another wave. There's always plenty of Karma to clear!
